

Victory Packaging

We are Architects of Packaging Solutions

POSITION STATEMENT ON REMEDIES UPON TERMINATION PRIOR TO DELIVERY

November 2, 2018

Effectiveness and Revocation

This Position Statement shall be effective as of the date first set forth above and shall be binding upon, and enforceable against, Victory Packaging and its current and future direct and indirect subsidiaries (collectively, “Victory”) until revoked in writing by Victory’s Chief Financial Officer. Any revocation of this Position Statement must be posted on Victory’s official company website, www.victorypackaging.com, for a period of at least ten (10) business days and will become effective no earlier than the thirty-first (31st) day after initial posting.

Position Statement

Notwithstanding any contrary terms or conditions that may be found in any written agreement, any standard terms and conditions of sale, or any other legally binding agreement applicable to sales of Goods (as defined below) by Victory to a customer (the “Applicable Terms”), if in the event such Victory customer, without cause, terminates, revokes, cancels, repudiates or allows to expire any order for the purchase of Goods from Victory or any agreement to maintain safety stock or consignment inventory (a “Termination”) prior to delivery (or deemed delivery) of such Goods in accordance with the Applicable Terms (“Delivery”), Victory waives any right it may now have or may hereafter have or acquire to collect from any person (including such customer and any and all persons acting as guarantor of such customer) with respect to such Termination, and forever releases and discharges (the “Waiver and Release”), each such person from any obligation to pay to Victory as a result of such Termination any amount in excess of Victory’s reasonable out-of-pocket costs and expenses incurred as a result of, and related to, such Termination, which sum shall always be less than the purchase price for the Goods impacted by such Termination. For the avoidance of doubt, the foregoing Waiver and Release shall have no force or effect with respect to any Goods after Delivery thereof in accordance with the Applicable Terms. For purposes of this Position Statement, the term “Goods” means, collectively, (a) corrugated products manufactured by Victory and (b) products procured by Victory for resale to a customer (i) that are designed or manufactured to such customer’s specifications, (ii) that include, reflect or display any intellectual property (including, without limitation, logos, trademarks, tradenames and copyrights) owned or licensed by such customer and/or (iii) for which Victory has no alternative use.

Legal Effect

It is Victory’s intent that this Position Statement (and the Waiver and Release set forth herein) be, and this Position Statement (and the Waiver and Release set forth herein) shall be, binding upon and enforceable against Victory until revoked in accordance with the terms hereof, notwithstanding any law, rule, regulation or principle of legal interpretation to the contrary.